School Construction To Start Monday As Project Is Given Final Approval

Bringing to a realization a project that has experienced many uncertainties, construction will be started Monday on Upland's new elementary school building.

Harry Miller, Los Angeles contractor, is scheduled to start work on the 15 class room building. As he starts, the dream of a safe, modern educational unit will begin to take shape. A little more than a year ago, many parents here united in a bond issue campaign. Success of that campaign formed the foundation for the fund that will be used in erecting the building.

HAROLD W. COOK

superintendent of Upland schools, who with the support of the Upland board of education, has successfully directed details leading up to the final approval of the Upland school PWA project. Construction of the new elementary school building will be started Monday.

TO COST $318,000

Rather than a $175,000 building, as originally contemplated, the structure that will rise on Fifth avenue near Arrow highway will involve an expenditure, including furnishings, of $318,000.

Harold W. Cook, superintendent of the Upland schools, has been notified that every detail in connection with the start of the PWA project has been approved. October 31 was specified as the latest date work could be started. Kenneth Godwin, PWA director in California, advised the local official of final approval of the project.

It is expected the building will be completed in time for the start of school next September.

INCLUDES MANY FEATURES

In addition to the 15 classrooms, the building will include a cafeteria, an auditorium with a seating capacity of over 600, kindergarten facilities, a library and administrative offices. Each classroom will open on to "an outdoor classroom" or patio, a new popular feature in educational equipment. The project also calls for landscaping of the school grounds.

The building will have a long frontage on Fifth avenue. The auditorium will be on the northern end. The kindergarten classroom and separate entrance will be at the south portion of the structure.

Of one-story construction and with each classroom having an outside entrance, the building will be rectangular in shape. The main entrance will be on Fifth avenue.

The new building will replace the Fannie D. Noe structure.

NEW STORM LINK WORK WILL START ON EIGHTH STREET

$187,000 Project Planned to Control and Conserve Flood Waters

Providing another link in the program of controlling the flood waters and conserving the storm run off for the local area is the proposed construction of an underground conduit on Eighth street from Euclid avenue to east of Campus avenue.

Construction is scheduled to be started early next month on the Eighth street conduit, the first work being near Grove avenue. WPA crews will advance west toward Euclid avenue.

The project will not be ready in time to handle any flood water that may come during the 1938-39 season.

SIMILAR TO FIFTEENTH

Royal V. Ward, county flood control engineer, who will direct the actual work, said that the Eighth street conduit would be almost the same as the one on Fifteenth street, the same equipment being used on the new job as recently finished the Fifteenth street project.

Placed almost in the center of eighth street pavement, the conduit will be 48x54 inches in size between Campus and Euclid avenues. From Campus avenue east to the Cucamonga wash, the drain will be 60x66 inches.

Purpose of the Eighth street conduit is to receive the flood run off from both sides of Euclid avenue and Campus avenue, sending the water out to the Cucamonga wash. Eventually a series of wiers will be placed in the Cucamonga wash to aid in spreading the water.

Mr. Ward emphasized that no water will be sent to the spreading grounds until facilities there are able to handle it.

TO PROTECT ONTARIO

Without the Eighth street conduit, the flood water rushes on to Ontario, frequently causing considerable damage. The project is designed to convert this nuisance into a benefit for the entire Chino basin underground water supply.

Each intake will be equipped with grooves for stop logs to control the amount of water to be handled by the conduit and spreading grounds.

The project will cost $181,173 and it will give employment to 170 men for 15 months. Ralph D. Smith, WPA director, recently advised C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, that the project had been approved.

Huge Mural Will Be Dedicated in Honor Of Former Minister

Sunday afternoon a huge mural in the Huntington Park Methodist church will be dedicated to the memory of the late Rev. S. S. Sampson, pastor of that church for several years.

The very beautiful painting, 33 feet long and 15 feet high, is the work of Frank Bowers, California artist, and required several months to complete.

The Rev. Mr. Sampson was pastor of the Upland Methodist church a number of years ago and Dr. R. C. Stone, pastor emeritus of the Upland Presbyterian church, will have a part in the dedicatory service.

Mr. Sampson was held in high regard here and it is expected the Methodist church will be represented at the service by some of the older members.

Deadline Nears for Absentee Voters

Special emphasis is placed on the fact that Nov. 3 is the last day for obtaining absentee ballots for the Nov. 8 election. Mrs. Adelaide Plum, deputy county registrar of voters, has application blanks for the absentee ballots.

Persons who are going to be away on election day must apply for the absentee ballots by next Thursday.

CHAFFEY STARTS TOO LATE TO WIN

Tigers and Santa Ana Split 6 to 6 Grid Decision Here Yesterday

Chaffey started too late yesterday afternoon to win its football game from Santa Ana high school. The elevens finished in a draw—6 to 6. Both scored in the fourth quarter, and the Tigers almost counted again but the timekeeper said 60 minutes of play was up.

Santa Ana scored first after a 65-yard drive generated by Bob Musick, brother of the former U. S. C. fullback.

Trailing, the Tigers got busy and instituted a beautiful aerial attack that soon brought the line within two yards from the goal. Bill Blatnick, quarterback, plunged over for the counter.

Evenly matched, the teams played more or less listless ball throughout the three quarters. Finding it possible to gain through the line, Santa Ana turned on the power to score.

Coach Mitchell's men were more versatile and showed real strength at times but the scoring punch came too late to get anything more than a tie.

Opening for Chaffey were Harms and Brennan, ends; Schiro and Givens, tackles; Lewman and Craig, guards; Clark, center; Blatnick, quarterback; Hickox and McGuire, halfbacks, and Schonert, fullback.

Chaffey plays at San Bernardino next week. The Tigers have one tie and one defeat as their season record at present.

Dr. and Mrs. Craig Back From New York

Dr. and Mrs. John B. Craig returned yesterday from New York City, where Dr. Craig attended the Clinical Congress of American College of Surgeons, of which he is a member.

They were gone two weeks.

Lee McCords Plan To Leave Upland

Mr. and Mrs. Lee McCord are planning to leave Upland over the week end for Phoenix, where Mr. McCord has accepted a position with the McConkey & Docker Co. As an expert in the installation of air conditioning equipment Mr. McCord will work for the company on its projects at various cities, including Phoenix, Prescott and Yuma.

Mrs. McCord is organist at the Upland Methodist church and she will preside at the console Sunday morning for the last time. A talented musician and willing to be of service wherever possible, Mrs. McCord has been organist for the church for many years.

She is the daughter of Mrs. P. E. Walline, who until recently made her home in Upland. Mrs Walline is now living with relatives in Arcadia.

Mary Ellen Rahn and Coy Sanders Judges For Poetry Magazine

Miss Mary Ellen Rahn and Coy Sanders have been announced as poetry judges for the fall edition of "Driftwood," poetry magazine at Chaffey junior college, by Frank F. Palmer, faculty adviser of the publication.

$300 GOES TO BOY SCOUT BUILDING

Chamber of Commerce Exhibit Funds Contributed to Project

Sum of $300 is scheduled to be taken from the Upland chamber of commerce exhibit fund and given to the Boy Scout building fund for payment of outstanding bills in the recent erection of the structure on Third avenue.

Board of directors of the Upland chamber voted at its meeting Wednesday morning to contribute $300 toward the Boy Scout building costs. Howard Mason, leader in the movement that resulted in the building going up, made the request for the money.

In recent years the chamber's exhibit fund has been increased to more than $600 as the result of Upland's successful displays at the Los Angeles county fair. All money realized in these exhibits has been placed in a special fund.

With the $300 taken from the exhibit fund, a sufficient reserve will remain to finance future displays.

The Boy Scout building is recognized as an outstanding community asset. It is used on most of the nights during the week by Boy Scout troops and a church organization.

WEATHER FORECAST WILL BE STARTED BY YOUNG NOV. 15

Ninth Season of Broadcasts Will Be Started to Aid Growers

With the coming of November, many citrus growers are today getting ready to fight against the possible invasion of Jack Frost.

Floyd D. Young, government meterologist, will begin his ninth season of forecasting temperatures Nov. 15. Definite schedule for his forecasts has not as yet been officially announced and it is likely that if the temperatures are not low, only general reports will be given.

Orchard heating practices are being studied by growers throughout the district. Special meetings are being held at which Mr. Young discusses "A Review of Standard Orchard Heating Practices." The only meeting in this area will be held in the Abraham Lincoln school in Pomona Monday night. Other meetings are planned for Covina and other more distant citrus centers.

"'All of our growers who face a frost hazard should attend one of these meetings," stated M. B. Rounds, county farm adviser at Pomona. "Temperature records for the past 30 years indicate that there is little chance for a winter season as mild as the last one. All growers should be prepared for low temperatures similar to those we experienced less than two years ago."

Mexican Customs, History Will Be Depicted in Class

Special work in the culture and historical background of Mexico will be offered with still and moving pictures and exhibits at the Chaffey People's college by Mrs. Bess Garner, starting Nov. 15.

This short lecture series will be held weekly on Tuesday evenings as a regular night school class. One of the lectures will be devoted to a remarkable exhibit, collected by Mrs. Garner during her numerous trips to Mexico, of rare and unusual costumes, some of which are found only in the most secluded and mountainous regions of the country.

Mrs. Garner is known throughout the West End as the director of the original troupe of Mexican players at Padua Hills theatre and as a traveler, author and lecturer.

INTENSIVE SALES DRIVES WILL AID CITRUS MARKETING

Leaders of 200,000 Stores Agree to Conduct Three Campaigns

Expected to partially dispose of the biggest surplus citrus crop in history, is a concentrated sales drive to be conducted throughout the nation this winter. Plans for the intensive campaign were revealed today.

Representatives of the California and Arizona citrus industry, acting in concert with representatives of Florida and Texas, met in Chicago with executives of food distribution groups in organizing the gigantic sales drive.

Three national citrus sales periods will be launched. Each drive will be for 10 days. The first one will start Nov. 25. The second Jan. 26 and on March 2 the tremendous merchandising strength of 200,000 sales outlets will be centered on the final sales period.

Results of these intensive campaigns are expected to remove from storage hundreds of cars of citrus fruit, thus improving the market and the local conditions.

Another encouraging situation is the report that approximately $10,000,000 in government funds will be directed in citrus channels to help growers, to remove the surplus from the markets and in general stimulate the citrus industry.

Better control of shipments from all citrus-producing states is virtually assured.

One Arrested, One Slightly Hurt in 2 Accidents Here

Two automobile accidents in Upland last night and this morning resulted in slight injuries to one person and the arrest of another one. Mrs. M. Crabtree of Rialto was slightly injured when a car driven by her husband and one driven by Mrs. W. H. Scholten came together on East Ninth street and Grove avenue.

Robert Duran, 104 Ninth avenue, was given a suspended jail sentence and fined $30 this morning when he appeared before Judge D. J. Burlingame on a hit-and-run charge. He was involved in an accident last night at Ninth street and Ninth avenue. The car he was driving and one driven by Jamie Cain, 505 East Ninth street, came together at the intersection. Duran's car was not damaged and he didn't stop to confer with the driver of the other machine. His arrest followed.

Insight Into British Life, War Preparations Given by Norman Lawson

England laborers at work—England getting ready for war.

These phases of activity in Great Britain were observed by Norman S. Lawson during a six months visit and yesterday he vividly reported on what he saw. He spoke at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Red Hill Country club house, wives of the club members being guests.

Mr. Lawson warmly commended the diplomacy of Neville Chamberlain, British prime minister, for his heroic efforts in delaying or preventing the start of armed conflict. Just as the zero hour approached in the recent crisis, thousands of women and children were being evacuated from London, thousands of men were reporting for military duty and countless citizens were actually kneeling in prayer for peace, he related. It was his observation that Chamberlain's acts to stave off peace were far more popular than were Lloyd George's recent denunciation of the peace efforts.

NORMAN S. LAWSON

who reported on his six months stay in England at the meeting of the Upland Lions club yesterday noon.

ENGLAND IS PREPARED

Nevertheless, England is many times better prepared for war now than in 1914 and Germany looms as a constant threat, related the Uplander, who made the comparison that London is only as far from Germany as Los Angeles is from Needles.

While basing his remarks about Hitler only on fragmentary reports, Mr. Lawson said that the turned to Upland Oct. 17, touched upon economic affairs in opening his interesting, informative talk. The wage scale is low, he said, citing an instance of women employed as harvest hands in picking up potatoes at a wage, including board and room, of about 10 cents an hour.

People exist on the English dole, single men getting equal to $3.50 a week, and married couples slightly more with an additional allowence for each dependent child, reported the traveler. Those on the dole are prohibited from working—it's either a matter of existing with the allotted sum or being on one's own initiative, ac-

INQUEST TODAY IN ONTARIO MURDER

Roommate of Slain Man Released After Questioning By Ontario Police

Who killed John Tangorra, Ontario Italian, Sunday night is a question unanswered today.

An inquest is scheduled to begin at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon to officially study the circumstances surrounding the mysterious slaying of the grape picker at his home, 746 East Belmont street.

The dead man's room mate, Sam Palisano, was released by Ontario police after the prisoner explained his whereabouts sufficiently to remove him from the possible list of murderers.

All that Ontario police and deputy sheriffs know about the case is that someone fired a shotgun through the screen door of Tangorra's home, the body being riddled with bullets. Palisano was found eight hours later at a friend's home.

At the inquest this afternoon many friends of the dead man will be questioned in an effort to give officers some clew as to the identity of the murderer. The inquest will be held in the J. B. Draper & Co. parlors, Ontario.

AQUEDUCT WATER TO MEMBERS ONLY

Water Problems Committee Outlines Policy of Metropolitan District

As there has been some consideration given by Upland and other communities to joining the Metropolitan Water district, it will be of interest to learn that water from the Colorado river aqueduct will be made available only to cities and areas now or hereafter included within the legal boundaries of the district. Such was emphatically declared by the water problems committee of the board of directors.

Authorized to deal with annexation applicants, the committee set forth official conditions governing future annexations, which include the following:

Colorado river aqueduct water will be available only to cities and areas now or hereafter included within the legal boundaries of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California. It means that aqueduct water will not be sold or released under any terms to any area as long as such area is outside the boundaries of the district.

EXTENSION LIMITED

The ultimate capacity of the aqueduct permits the extension of the present district area within certain definite limits. All district areas are to be assured an adequate and dependable water supply, and the territory ultimately to be included within the district shall not be larger than that which permanently can be assured such an adequate supply.

In treating with applicants for annexation, the district will give its favorable consideration only to

CONTESTS HEATED AS CAMPAIGNS ARE NEARING NOV. 8

Andreas, Atwood Contest Center of Interest Among Politicians

Interest here in the Nov. 8 election is overshadowing all other events today, the principal concern being who is going to be the next assemblyman, the next U. S. senator, the next governor and the next congressman.

The race between Floyde L. Atwood and Godfrey Andreas is developing into a contest more heated than any in which Mr. Andreas, the incumbent and political veteran, has ever participated. He is seeking election for his third term in Sacramento.

SUPPORTERS OPTIMISTIC

Mr. Atwood, a newcomer in politics but a long-time resident and widely known in the West End as well as in the San Bernardino area, is receiving wide support. In the August primaries, however, he received more than 2200 votes less than did Mr. Andreas. That's quite a lead to overcome but his supporters are optimistic.

Mr. Andreas reported much enthusiasm that a "Republican headquarters for Godfrey Andreas" has been opened in Ontario. This is similar to the report that several leading Democrats have swung their support to Mr. Atwood.

This being a Republican community, reports indicate a strong preference for Gov. Merriam for re-election as governor over Cuthbert Olson.

Philip Bancroft, Republican nominee for U. S. senate, is continuing his strong campaign over Sheridan Downey, his Democratic opponent.

STRONG CAMPAIGN

Harry R. Sheppard, incumbent, for representative in Congress, is waging a strong campaign to win over his Republican opponent, C. T. Johnson.

Much interest has been shown in the comments following the announcement that R. O. Price, Democrat, is openly supporting the candidacies of Mr. Merriam and Mr. Bancroft.

Offices for Downey and Olson and for the Republicans are being maintained in Upland. The Republican headquarters are in the Craig building, Second avenue at C street. Downey-Olson offices are in the building formerly occupied by Clark's meat market.

Study is also being given to the 25 measures on the ballot, along with many other candidates.

Wright, South See New Car To Be New Member Ford Line

Ellery Wright and Veeder South of the Upland Motor Co., local Ford dealers, met with dealers from all over Southern California and Arizona at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles Wednesday to hear for the first time Ford plans for 1939 and to inspect new cars.

According to the Ford dealers, two new Ford cars were presented, as well as another car entirely new to the Ford line. It was called the Mercury 8 and was said to fit in the Ford line between the de luxe Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr, making five separate and distinct lines of cars Ford is presenting for the new year.

Sam D. Barker and His Bride Tell of Marriage on Oct. 9

While friends of Samuel D. Barker and Miss Ruth Wirt, who had known for some time of their nuptial plans, were waiting for the announcement of the coming wedding, the two slipped away to Yuma, Ariz., on Oct. 9 and were united in marriage by the Rev. J. B. Brown, Christian minister. Announcement of their marriage was made Thursday.

Miss Wirt has been employed for the past year and a half in the office of the San Antonio Community hospital and is known to many friends in the West End. She is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Wirt of Salem, Ore.

Mr. Barker, who formerly owned a grove operating business, is constable of Upland township, an office he has held for several years, and he is widely known throughout the county. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barker of Santa Ana, former residents of Upland.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker are residing at 708 North First avenue.

Independent Congress Needed

One great need of the country at this time is a Congress that is not made up chiefly of "yes men." Ever since the Roosevelt administration came into power it has been the attitude of the President that every member of Congress should "step to his music"—otherwise the ax wcould be brought down on their necks. There has been of late a breaking away by a number of the legislators from this grip of the President. It is being realized more than ever that his policies are far from right on many things—and some Democratic legislators are thinking for themselves and making known their attitude. The following comment by the Christian Science Monitor shows the trend toward a more independent Congress:

"There is every prospect that what Herbert Hoover chiefly appealed for at Hartford Monday night will be provided by the November elections. The coming Congress will be more independent of the President. Failure of the presidential 'purge' in the Democratic primary and indications of Republican gains in several states assure such a result. It should be gratifying to every citizen who sees the importance of redressing the balance in the American system of government.

"Yet there is much more to be done in the way of reestablishing congressional independence. And it would be well to recognize the forms which dependence takes. Mr. Roosevelt's control rested on three things. First was the emergency. Recent sessions have seen that influence fading. Second was the President's personal popularity. It was good politics to support his programs. According to recent polls of public opinion this popularity is still very great although there is much questioning of presidential methods.

"The third factor was control of Federal funds, particularly the allocation of relief grants. Members of Congress often rest their own popularity at home upon the amounts of money they can get for their districts or states from the Federal treasury. Under the present set-up they can be rewarded or penalized by the Executive in the distribution of such funds and may be influenced accordingly. That is the most deeply disturbing element in the situation. And it is one which threatens to be more permanent than the others. It opens the way to abuses, whatever party is in power.

"The first remedy is to end executive allocation of funds. A more fundamental reform is to end the dependence of local communities on the Federal government. As long as that exists Congressman will be dependent on and chiefly representative of pressure groups who seek Federal grants. The key to an independent Congress is an independent and self-reliant electorate."

That there is "executive allocation of funds" is shown by the following extract from a recent speech by Congressman John Dockweiler of Los Angeles, who brazenly announced that California should elect Mr. Olson governor and send to Washington a solid delegation of Democrats because of the effect upon allocation of federal funds. Congressman Dockweiler said:

"Nobody knows better than myself, because of my experience in Washington as a member of the all powerful committee on appropriations, as one of those high in offical circles, as the President's chief assistant Democratic whip, as having served on many of the important special committees of the House of Representatives; none knows better than myself of how much Federal money and Federal attention California has been deprived, to what extent California has suffered the loss of many benefits that a Democratic administration might have showered upon California had California seen fit to elect a Democratic governor and a Democratic administraton during this period.

"It might seem silly to mention that a situation of this kind could arise, but I say to you frankly and to all those listening to my voice that were it not that California had the sense to send a sufficient number of Democratic Congressmen to Washington during this period, California pould not have received the Federal attention that the importanee of this state would have originally demanded."

And in commenting on Mr. Dockweiler's address the San Bernardino Sun appropriately says:

"So it is true, Mr. Dockweiler, that huge Federal expenditures are so handled as to attempt to buy outright entire states and to attempt to punish the people of those states which refuse to obey political suggestions from Washington?

"If the things go on at Washington which Mr. Dockweiler brags do go on, then the great republic of the United States is headed for destruction. It cannot survive such retrogression of public morals in high places."

More Ballot Propositions

One thing that should be instrumental in causing a voter to decide whether he shall vote for any proposition or not are those who favor it and those who are against it. Take for instance Proposition No. 1 on the November 8 ballot: Opposed to it are the Communists, the C. I. O., Harry Bridges, the emissaries in California of David Beck, the Seattle boss; and every labor racketeer and agitator in the state, it is pointed out by the Committee of 1000. Other organizations misleading the public by using various patriotic sounding names—but in reality of the Communistic order—are also against this proposition. The proposition would regulate picketing in a similar manner to which the citizens of Los Angeles voted some months ago. The vote by which it carried in that city is evidence that labor as well as other voters favored it at the polls. The measure would not prohibit picketing, but would regulate that activity in a way favorable to labor as well as the general public. Both labor—union and otherwise—is tired of mass picketing, hiring of thugs, goon squads, sit-down strikes and the like, which have given organized labor a black eye. This measure will give labor an opportunity to express itself in this regard—and it is freely predicted they will vote for it in such numbers that it will carry, thus freeing itself and others from unjust and unfair control.

A "Yes" vote is also recommended on Proposition No. 5, which will require fishing boats that supply floating reduction plants or other plants beyond state jurisdiction to secure permits from the state Fish and Game commission in order to operate in California waters; it will prevent evasion of California conservation laws, assure the people of the state protection of our natural resources, prevent waste and depletion and enable fisheries to be maintained at the maximum safe yield with highest economic return without endangering the future supply. At the same time it does not hinder legitimate fishery industry, nor decrease the supply of fish or fishery products.

"BELIEVE IT OR NOT"

Claremont Courier: When a Pasadena friend of a local woman mentioned in a phone conversation that her black pet cat had died and she was at loss to know where to bury it, since she resides in an apartment house, she was invited to bring the pet out to ye peacefulle college cittye for interment on the specious property of her Claremont friend.

The expired feline was tenderly wrapped up in a good conservative newspaper and placed on the back-seat floor of the car of its mistress preparatory to the funeral trip. Before coming to Claremont the woman decided to include a Los Angeles shopping trip in her itinerary. Being a trusting soul, like the writer, she didn't bother to lock her car when she parked in the metropolitan center.

Some time later, stopping to freshen up a bit in the restroom of a large department store before continuing on to Claremont, she received quite a shock to see behind her, visible by reflection in the mirror over the wash-basins, two feet pointed suspiciously skyward under the abbreviated door of a private compartment. Her discovery led to considerable excitement and ultimately to the recovery of the unconscious form of a woman. The prostrate one had not been equal to the shock of unwrapping a package she had stolen in the belief it contained something valuable only to find—and in rather close quarters—that it contained instead the body of a black and thoroughly deceased cat. Ambulance attendants took charge; the woman was really hors de combat.

The cat? I can't tell you, since the story ends here as told to me. But I seriously doubt whether poor pussy made it to the happy hunting ground. And after all, you must admit this is a four-star story without any epilogue on feline funeral services.

HERO "COMES TO LIFE"

Christian Science Monitor: So there really was a Casey Jones. The news item about the erection of a monument to his memory confirms it. The fabled engineer, hero of song and story, was an actual person, it seems, christened John Luther Jones and dubbed "Casey" because he lived at Cayce, Kentucky.

"Casey" was engineer of a fast express. At Vaughn, Miss., on April 30, 1900, the "flier" crashed head-on into a freight which had failed to take a siding. The engineer saved his fireman's life by ordering him to jump, but "Casey" stuck to his post to the last in an effort to reduce speed.

So perishes fable in the limelight of fact. It was thus when history taught us that Kit Carson and "Deadwood Dick" were individuals of flesh and blood and not mere pulpwood. Perhaps even "Steamboat Bill," "Casey" Jones's ballad contemporary, or even John Hay's famous "Jim Bludso," the Mississippi river hero, may "come to life." But we draw the line at Paul Bunyan, the legendary north woods lumberman, who could fell a tree at one blow of the axe.

THE MOVIE DRIVE

Beverly Hills Citizen: Last year, between 80 and 90 million Americans weekly streamed down the aisles of the nation's 16,000 movie theatres. But in recent months they have been staying away in droves. Never one to lie down and brood over a defeatist complex the industry has today swung into a broadside attack against lowered attendance with a million dollar advertising campaign. Hollywood, which has ever had a weakness for happy endings, is confident of a happy ending—90 million Americans marching down the aisles of the nation's movie palaces.

HOPE IN FUTURE

Inyo Independent: Some of the CIO men are picketing entrances to Nevada, with signs saying that Nevada is "unfair." Next thing we'll know, the whole United States will be labeled by some crackpots as "unfair." Imagine a few men announcing to the world that an entire state, composed mostly of people who have no idea whatsoever about the CIO grievances, is "unfair" to labor's cause.

But there is real hope in labor relationships. I believe that out of all this strife will come a closer understanding between capital and labor and a willingness to cooperate, proved labor itself will realize that with leadership, as typified by the A. F. of L., and not the radicalism as typified by Harry Bridges, labor will go a long way in receiving its just dues and its place in the sun as the great creative force it has always been and should be in our daily relationships. There is nothing more honorable than labor. There is nothing with greater opportunity for potential good in our economic processes than labor organizations that are wisely led and administrated.

Science for Every Citizen, New Book Now in Library

"Science began when man started to plan ahead for the seasons, because planning ahead for the seasons demanded an organized body of continuous observations and a permanent record of their recurrence. In an age of wireless transmission, of mechanical clocks and cheap almanacs, we take time for granted. Before there were any clocks or simpler devices like the hour-glass or the clepsydra for recording the passage of time, mankind had to depend on the direction of the heavenly bodies, sun by day and the stars by night," so says "Science for the Citizen; a self-educator based on the social background of scientific discovery," a book written by Lancelot Thomas Hogben, and now available in the Upland library. This book, which is in five parts, deals in part one with conquest of time reckoning and space measurement; part two, conquest of substitutes, dealing with mineralogy, metallurgy, organic chemistry, etc.; part three, the conquest of power, dealing with mechanics and electricity; part four, conquest of hunger and disease, dealing with medicine and surgery, botany and horticulture, geology and genetics; part five, conquest of behavior, dealing with the nervous system, the process of learning, the relative importance of heredity and environment.

Because scientific discoveries affect the every day lives of everyone, this book is educational for every citizen.

Proposition No. 13 on your November ballot is a brazen attempt to let down the bars to wholesale public borrowings which would mean . . . .

Staggering Debt And New Tax Burdens

This dangerous proposal would abolish the basic safeguard requiring a two-thirds vote for bond issues!

It makes it easier to get into debt, but harder to get out!

It would permit the issuance of revenue bonds, IN ANY AMOUNT, by a bare majority of those actually going to the polls. In reality, it would mean that any district, city or county could be plunged into debt by A SMALL MINORITY, as only a fraction of the registered vote usually turns out for a bond election.

You can't afford it. Your neighbors can't afford it. No city or district in California can afford it!

Gasoline Sales Last Month Show Decline

Gasoline sales throughout California, as indicated by motor vehicle fuel tax revenue, dropped 5.43 per cent during September as compared with the same month of the previous year, the State Board of Equalization reports.

Last month's tax amounted to $4,277,422.50, as compared with $4,523,409.84 reported for September, 1937. The month's income also was well below the tax of $4,742,539.08 reported for August of the current year.

SMASH THE... "SINGLE TAX"

If a man steals your purse, at the point of a gun,

IT'S ROBBERY!

But if tax cranks and social revolutionists rob you of your home, your farm, your job and your savings,

IT'S YOUR OWN RESPONSIBILITY

Your DEFENSE is in your own hands—in your intelligent use of the ballot.

The discredited, six-times-defeated "Single Tax" will appear as Proposition No. 20 on your November ballot.

This ruinous proposal would . . .

Confiscate Homes and Farms by piling Extortionate Taxes on Land—Higher than Taxpayers could pay.

It would wreck trades and industries, skyrocket rents, drain the State Treasury of the funds necessary to pay old age pensions, to maintain the public schools and other essential functions of government.

It would bring chaos, distress and disaster to California.

And Remember: You Can't Vote Sales Tax Out. Without Voting "Single Tax" in. The bait of "sales tax repeal" is a deliberate attempt to snare the unwary voter.

POSSIBILITY OF NEW POST OFFICE STIRS INTEREST

Government Delays Signing Lease Agreement for Five Years

Speculation over the possibility of Upland getting a new postal building continues and the basis for the current interest is the fact that the government has not signed with W. C. Cline, owner of the present postoffice structure, for a new five-year lease.

Bids closed for leasing new postal facilities more than two months ago. It was understood owners of two other buildings were submitting offers but when the deadline came, only Mr. Cline's bid was on file. Since then a representative ot the government postal department has been here to confer with Mr. Cline.

Lease on the present postoffice building expires in February. While there is plenty of time in which to sign a lease, the delay on the part of the government is basis for new interest being shown in a possible new federal building.

O. P. Brady, postmaster, has been assured that Upland is in line for a new federal building. He questioned the postal department representatives as to the need of a lease being for five years. It was indicated that one reason for the delay was the possibility of making the agreement for a shorter period.

The current lease expires in February. In some of the negotiations, leases have been for two years.

Books on Knitting Are Now Available At Public Library

"Knit One, Purl One" is the title to a book for girls on knitting and crocheting that is now available in the Upland public library. Knitting is a smart and enjoyable accomplishment, like skating, swimming and dancing, and is most easily learned in youth. It really is a popular indoor sport for both young and adult and now that everybody is wearing knitted suits, this book may start a girl on her way towards making a suit for herself.

The authors of "Knit One, Purl One" are Emma L. Shields and Helen D. Wemple, and they have spent many years in teaching knitting to children and adults.

Then for the experienced knitter, "Mary Thomas's Knitting Book," just purchased for the adult section, is most interesting with its brief history of knitting and explanation of such common things as implements, yarns, gauge, position of the hands in knitting, color knitting, frame knitting, looped and embroidered knitting and Shetland shawls.

The book is fully illustrated with clear and detailed figures. Amusing caricatures are included.

"SUEZ" OPENS AT FOX POMONA NEXT

Originally planned as a road show special, the general release of "Suez" is now giving everyone a chance to see this magnificent picture at the same time and at popular prices. Opening Sunday at the Fox theatre in Pomona, "Suez" enters the lists as the newest of the spectacular entertainment pictures with its mighty wind storm topping everything yet seen on the screen.

Tyrone Power, Loretta Young and Annabella have the leading roles in this story of DeLessup's, engineering genius who conceived and, after unsurmountable obstacles, achieved the building of the Suez canal. Continuous shows will be offered Sunday of this feature and the second feature which is on the program.

"TOVARICH" CURRENT BILL AT PASADENA PLAYHOUSE

His mind and his typewriter were poised for an "epic," but in between momentous thoughts came ideas for a comedy. The net result was that Jacques Deval passed up his epic plans and countered by writing "Tovarich," current cause for gay laughter on the Pasadena Community Playhouse stage.

Twenty-four countries have seen the merry, mad comedy of the Russian grand duchess and prince. From its starting point of 800 performances in Paris, "Tovarich" went to London for a run of a year and a day.

Nearly every important drama center in these United States has seen the play, while the film version brought it to over 800 cinema palaces.

Final curtain on the Playhouse run comes Saturday, Nov. 5. "And Stars Remain," New York Theatre Guild comedy, follows the Deval hit on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK WILL OPEN SUNDAY

Special Week To Begin With Scout Sunday Service In Ontario

All Girl Scouts and Brownies and their leaders in the Chaffey district are invited to attend the special service and are to meet in a body at 10:45 at the G street entrance of the church.

DISPLAYS PLANNED

Next Monday Girl Scout displays will be placed in the windows of various West End stores, the exhibits shown in the Scout booths at the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona being used.

SHOULD BE RE-ELECTED

Puente Journal: Governor Frank F. Merriam was elected four years ago by a collusive vote of voters of all parties who protested the manner in which the attempt was being made to wrest control of the state from liberal, sound-mindedness. As alarming as were the conditions four years ago considered to be, problems, platforms and proposals held by the liberals of the state to have been unthought of a quadrenium ago now confront the voters.

The same forces which supported Gov. Merriam four yeors ago are for him this year. Added to these are many who opposed his principles at that time, but who have been forced to admit the Governor has been a pretty good executive during the past four years, and upon the belief he will continue to give the same service for another four years, they are aligning themselves with his supporters.

GUEST NIGHT HELD BY ODD FELLOWS

Special Program Is Presented And Dinner Served to Many Guests

Annual guest night dinner held Tuesday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall by Euclid lodge No. 68, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, was a particularly successful event and was attended by approximately 20 visitors, who were special guests of the members.

Dinner was served at 6:45 and was preceded by the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" with Herman Walker accompanying, and the invocation led by Raymond J. Edwards, chaplain. The tables were attractive with decorations of roses in various colors.

Houston Dewey, vice-grand of the lodge, served as toastmaster and presented an unusual program, the entertainers being the "Three Lehman Children," who have appeared successfully before many audiences in Texas, their home state, and in California and they also have appeared in a series of radio programs in Texas.

This is the third season the children have come to Ontario to study music, James Neill Northe being their instructor and manager. They are attending school in Ontario.

Dorothy Lehman, pianist, 10 years old, is one of America's youngest composers, having published two compositions. She once was presented by Paul Whiteman in his nation-wide broadcast. The others of the group are Eldon, aged 12 years, and Olan, 7 years, both of whom sing. Eldon announced their numbers and Dorothy played the accompaniments when the trio sang, their numbers being "You'll Gain the Whole World for Your Own" (composed by Dorothy), "While the Chapel Bells Are Ringing" and "Goodnight, Sweet Dreams, Goodnight." Dorothy's piano selections were "Showers of Stars" and "Bye the Sea."

At the conclusion of the program each guest was introduced and a welcoming address was given by Lee K. Bigley, noble grand. Everett Liles of Claremont, district deputy grand master, also made a short address.

Presented by Homer Washburn, junior past grand, Raymond J. Edwards, chaplain of the lodge, delivered the address of the evening, his subject being "Fellowship." He pointed out that the true meaning of fellowship may be found in the acrostic of the word service—S for smile, E for education; R, righteousness; V, vigor; I, interest; C, courtesy, and E, efficiency.

Harry Plum, captain of the drill team, spoke briefly concerning the team and told of preparations being made for the team's appearance in special drills at the Grand Master's class to be held in the Odd Fellows temple in Los Angeles on Dec. 14.

At the conclusion of the program the entire company adjourned to the social rooms where diversified entertainment was enjoyed.

The committee arranging for the successful evening included Houston Dewey, chairman; Harry Plum and Clinton O. Mayberry, and they were assisted by G. A. Brest, Ira Francisco and Edward Luke.

Department Inspector In Official Visit To Auxiliary

Making an excellent record, both in attendance and in performance, the Woman's Auxiliary to Alois Pedrasnik camp, Sons of Union Veterans, entertained the department inspector, Mrs. Hannah Dabel of San Jose, at the regular meeting held Tuesday evening in the Ontario American Legion hall.

Mrs. Sadie Benner, president of the Auxiliary, conducted the meeting and the complete ritualistic work of the order was carefully exemplified for the benefit of the inspector.

In the absence of the candidate for membership, who was called oue of town, Mrs. Lotus Sheets, a member, acted as the candidate in the initiatory ceremony.

At the conclusion of the work the inspector complimented the officials upon their performance. Her official rating for the Auxiliary will be announced later by the inspector.

Chaffey Wives Enjoy Outstanding Addresses Given by Two Travelers Home From Sojourns in British Isles

A program of unusual interest, presented by Mrs. Fred H. Clapp and Mrs. Norman S. Lawson, both of whom were in Europe last summer, was the outstanding feature of the meeting held Thursday afternoon by the Chaffey Faculty Wives at the home of Mrs. F. E. Chaffee, 306 East Granada court, Ontario.

An attractively appointed luncheon served during the noon hour was followed by a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. Herschel R. Griffin, club president, several reports of club activities being made by committee chairmen.

Mrs. Wiley W. Mather, who is serving this year as program chairman, presented as the first speaker Mrs. Clapp, who with her daughter, Miss Virginia Clapp, left late last spring for Europe, where they spent nearly three months in exceedingly interesting research work.

Mrs. Clapp, who is of English parentage, has a number of relatives in England whom she and her daughter visited for the first time. They went into Holland and France, stopping briefly in Paris, but they spent little more than a week on the continent, electing to devote the greater part of their time to England and Scotland.

Mrs. Clapp's principal purpose was to secure a first hand historical background for her study of English life. She and her daughter visited many places in England and Scotland, where historic events occurred, and they secured a remarkable collection of pictures of famous places and of other interesting but not so well known scenes.

Mrs. Clapp also brought back an extensive collection of mementos of the trip, such as concert programs, menus, tickets, etc., that remind her of many delightful hours. All of these things, with the pictures, she is making into a scrapbook and she passed them out to her audience as she told her travel story and explained the many pictures with a clarity and remarkable continuity that made her listeners feel they too had followed the fascinating itinerary.

Mrs. Clapp was much interested in the flowers she found in England and she brought back various seeds and bulbs.

Mrs. Lawson, also presented by Mrs. Mather, returned less than two weeks ago from a several months visit in Scotland, was induced to tell something of the reaction of the English people in the recent Czechoslovakian war crisis.

After leaving Scotland, where she and Mr. Lawson visited with her mother and other relatives, they spent three weeks in London and were there during the several tense days when war was expected at any hour.

In London, Mrs. Lawson said, the people were very calm, outwardly, but she sensed an undercurrent of desperate tenseness and nerve-wrecking dread.

For many months, she pointed out, all England has been preparing for protection in case of war or other emergency and every man, woman and child knows just what to do should the alarm be given, so complete is the organization.

Every shop girl, waitress, factory and office worker and others in public places have written instructions concerning safety measures and during those days of waiting for the expected call, those instruction papers were kept within reach every minute.

For two or three days before the final Czeck settlement, gas masks were distributed throughout the city and as a grim reminder of the horror that might be hovering over the city, many children were sent away. Thousands of frightened but obedient little girls and boys, each wearing a tag with name and address and carrying a small handbag and one blanket, were loaded into trains and trucks and taken to refuges at least 50 miles inland from London.

Fearing the crowded trains might delay their departure if war should break, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson went to Southhampton three days before their liner was due to sail, and they found it a relief to leave London. In fact, they were much relieved to leave England, Mrs. Lawson admitted.

Both Mrs. Clapp's and Mrs. Lawson's addresses proved exceedingly interesting to their audience.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames Hershel R. Griffin, Ernest W. Fischer, Walter A. Hall, E. V. Wiseman, John Homewood, H. R. Stanford, Geo. P. Weldon, Fred H. Clapp, Leo A. Wadsworth, T. J. Birkofer, H. T. Wilson, A. C. Hargrave, L. J. Horsch, F. J. Young, Archie L. Moore, James Cassidy, Ernest Payne, Harrison Pells, Harold Merchant, R. E. Berry, John L. McCutchen, Olaf E. Snyder, Roy Vick, Gardner W. Spring, Alex E. Mendosa, A. Chris Daniels, Ralph Almquist, Karl W. Kaiser, H. S. Bailey Norman S. Lawson, John B. Meek, Jack L. White, Frank F. Palmer, Arthur Edw. Flum, Wiley W. Mather, and the committee members, Mesdames F. E. Chaffee, Burt Heiser, Chas. J. Booth, Harry Alter, Harry Couzins, Ralph Streano and W. W. Cushing; also two guests, Mrs. C. M. Benson and Mrs. Mabel T. Swan.

"THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN"

Musical Program Is Delight to Many Club Women

Many members of the Upland Woman's club and a number of guests had the privilege of hearing two talented artists present an outstanding musical program Tuesday, when they appeared as entertainers at the club's regular afternoon meeting.

The meeting began at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Lloyd A. Fox, club president, presiding. Mrs. F. B. Harn, chairman of patriotic activities, led in the salute to the flag and the first verse of "America" was sung. The brief business session, during which a number of announcements were made, was followed by the program.

Mrs. L. R. Bradley, club program chairman, who arranged the series of very interesting programs the club is enjoying, was unable to be present and Mrs. Ray R. Sherwood presided as program chairman in her place. In presenting the entertainers Mrs. Sherwood gave a brief sketch of their brilliant musical careers and stated that Richard Tetley Kardis, pianist, is a native of Canada, while Michael Sorensen, baritone, is a resident of Portland, Ore.

The program, presented in alternating groups by the singer and pianist, was opened by Mr. Sorensen, his first three selections being "Service," by Cadnum; "Bitterness of Love," by James Dunn, and "Tallyho."

Selections included in his two other groups were "Song of the Open Road," made famous by John Charles Thomas; "In the Luxemburg Gardens" (Manning), "Barber of Turin" (Russell), "Years of Spring" (Browning and Beach), "When I Have Sung My Song" (Ernest Charles), "Narrative from the Rogue's Song" and "Shortenin' Bread."

The two groups of piano selections contributed by Mr. Kardis included "Gaviotte" (Gluek, arranged by Brahms), "Nocturne" and "Waltz in C Miner," both by Chopin; "Little White Donkey," "Claire de Lune" (DeBussey), and a selection by a Belgian composer arranged as a French round.

Both artists, who have captivated audiences in many states, delighted the club women with their well arranged program and their superior performances.

Mrs. Una R. Winter, club chairman of legislation, spoke of the coming election and urged that all voters inform themselves concerning the various amendments on the ballot.

Mrs. Fox again called attention to the change in the date for the first November meeting. Because an election booth is to be maintained in the club house on Nov. 8, the luncheon meeting has been postponed to Nov. 15.

The psychology class to be conducted by Dr. Herschel R. Griffin of Chaffey, will open on Monday, Nov. 7, at 1:30 p.m., and will be held at that hour on each succeeding Monday during the series.

Meeting on the same day and following the psychology class, a class in Bible literature will be conducted by Prof. Wiley W. Mather of Chaffey, beginning at 2:30 each Monday.

Announcement also was made of the Civic conference to be held at Chaffey on Nov. 1 under the sponsorship of the Upland club, and of the meetings being held at 3 o'clock each Wednesday afternoon at the Claremont Woman's club house by the League of Women Voters, which includes this entire district.

Attention was called to the Southern district convention to be held at Coronado on Nov. 16-18.

This Is What New State Prison May Look Like

This picture shows the new plans for the state prison being erected on Central avenue just south of Chino. The picture is of a scale model of the maximum security portion of the prison plan and does not include the free village for the help, which will lie just to the left of the warden's home in the lower left. Central avenue lies parallel to the left wall of the plant and Merrill avenue, or Carbon Canyon Road, is barely shown in the lower right hand corner. Easily discernible in the lower center is the arsenal tower and auto park, while just across the road is the administration building and hospital. The cell blocks run through the middle. Right front is the chapel and library. Behind the three left cell blocks is the commissary and bath house and back of the others the mess house. At the far right is the reception house. Right from the athletic field and the gymnasium are the power plant and warehouse and to the rear are the shops. Guard houses and the rear gate are easily seen. At lower left, adjacent the warden's residence, may be seen the garage building already constructed.

Traffic Questions Answered Here

Q—Someone told me that a person riding an animal or using a bicycle on the public highways is subject to the vehicle code provisions of our state. Is such a thing true?

A—Yes, they are subject to such provisions of the law as would apply to the driver of a vehicle. Naturally certain provisions could not be enforced, such as registering a horse, etc.

Q—Recently I lost both of the number plates on my automobile bearing a number I have had for a number of years. Now the department advises me that I will have to accept a different numbered set of plates. Why can't I have duplicate plates made?

A—The department no longer issues duplicate pairs of plates for passenger cars, for a number of very excellent reasons. When plates are lost or stolen now, it is necessary to bring in all certificates, the remaining plate, etc., and receive a new set of different number. Often motorists reported plates lost or stolen and when they recovered them failed to notify us. Thus they were being stopped quite frequently by alert officers.

P.-T. A. Council To Raise Funds at Tea For School Lunches

For some time the teachers at Chaffey high school have maintained a fund with which they supplied noonday lunches for students of limited means. There has been increasing need for this assistance and the fund is now exhausted.

The Chaffey high school P.-T. A. has undertaken to assist in supplying the lunches and because the students in the high school come from all points in the Chaffey district, the Ontario P.-T. A. council, which includes all associations in the district, decided during its meeting Wednesday to lend its aid to this project.

As the first step in raising the funds the P.-T. A. council will sponsor a silver tea to be held on Nov. 4 at the home of Mrs. Minnie Emmons, 303 West F street, Ontario.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Emmons will be Mrs. C. L. Cochran, Mrs. J. I. Countryman and Mrs. L. M. Corn. The event is to be made a very pleasant social affair and an invitation is extended to all who are interested in the worthy project.

Local Odd Fellows Join in Honoring Members at Chino

Three members of the Upland Odd Fellow lodge, Lee K. Bigley, noble grand; Houston Dewey, vice-grand, and Verl C. Haynes, attended the meeting of the Chino lodge Wednesday evening, when the Chino Odd Fellows paid special honor to two of their members, Edwin Rhodes and W. J. Tebo.

Kenneth T. Heinauer, noble grand, and E. J. Latham, vice-grand, relinquished their chairs to Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Tebo, respectively, and they presided in these positions.

Short talks were made by John Bradburn, noble grand of the Ontario lodge; Lee K. Bigley of Euclid lodge in Upland; J. Guy Swope, past grand of Pomona, and Everett Liles, district deputy grand master, of Claremont.

The climax of the special honors came when E. J. Trathen, grand chaplain, of Los Angeles, in behalf of the Chino lodge presented the Odd Fellows 50 year jewell to Mr. Rhodes and the 45 year jewell to Mr. Tebo, both of whom made brief response. The meeting was closed with the serving of refreshments.

Next Wednesday night members of Euclid lodge will accompany their candidate, Melvin Iva Johnson, to Chino, where he will receive his second degree, and on Friday night, Nov. 4, he will receive his third degree at Pomona.

HITLER THROUGH WITH AGGRESSION

Dr. Polyzoides Says Dictator Will Center Efforts on Trade Relations

Hitler of Germany is not ambitious to get more territory but he wants more trade and his future acts will be to get access through diplomatic dealings to more raw materials.

Dr. Adamantios Polyzoides, U. S. C. professor and writer, made that declaration at a joint meeting of Ontario service clubs last night. Somehow Poland will come under Hitler's jurisdiction, but no armed conflict will be necessary to bring that about, predicted the famed authority on world affairs.

CONTROL GERMANS ONLY

"Hitler realizes quite firmly, I believe," continued the speaker, "that he cannot control anyone but German people and he will not follow a policy of territorial aggression."

Dr. Polyzoides predicted that Germany will expand its trade relations through the world and thus make many people outside of Germany dependent on German factories and industries for their markets.

While the recent European crisis resulted in a strengthening of the dictatorships, democratic countries need have no fears over that condition, he said, adding "Seldom does the power of a dictator outlive the dictator."

ORIENT IS IMPORTANT

Major historical events of the future will occur in the Pacific region, he declared in turning his attention to China and Japan. War in the Orient now is Japan's attempt to get the industrial control of China and thus have an outlet for its products, according to the speaker.

America will be commercially affected by Germany's and Japan's economic aggressions, for what those countries gain other countries must lose, he summarized.

PEACE OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Dr. Polyzoides expressed optimism over the possibility of peace. All responsible statesmen in the world realize that no one wins in an armed conflict and the tendency, in spite of increased armaments, is to settle disputes by conciliation, he said. It was his prediction that this tendency will eventually result in all the major nations agreeing to do away with war preparations, with international trade being increased and with world prosperity following.

The meeting was held in Hotel Ontario. Upland was represented by several members of local clubs.

Property Owners Will Be Advised of Project When Money Allotted

"Local interests will be given due consideration in the preparation of any and all definite plans" relative to the proposed construction of a debris basin in the northwest part of the Upland district.

This assurance came to the Upland chamber of commerce today from Major Theodore Wyman of the United States corps of engineers. The chamber had written to him relative to the plans and the possibility of a conference between his representatives and local property owners.

OFFERS TO CONFER

"After funds are alloted and when such definite plans are available, the district engineer will be glad to consult with responsible agencies of your area concerning the questions you have in mind," replied Major Wyman. "I would suggest that you bring this matter up again when funds are appropriated by Congress for the project, which as a matter of course will be duly announced in the newspapers."

Major Wyman emphasized that the plans are only tentative and, he said, until the funds are alloted nothing more will be done relative to the project. A bill authorizing construction of the debris dam and of a storm drain in San Antonio wash was passed at the last session of Congress.

MONEY EXPECTED

Money for this project is scheduled to be appropriated at the next Congressional session. At that time government engineers will make a detailed survey of the canyon and adjacent territory preliminary to actual construction of the $12,000,000 project.

As tentatively drawn at present, the retention dam will extend east from the wash near Twenty-third street, across Mountain avenue, then circle to San Antonio Heights, connecting at Crescent drive. The dam is planned to be 40 feet high.

Address and Dinner Will Mark Townsend Meeting on Tuesday

A rally of all Townsend plan supporters is being planned by the Upland Townsend club as the final regular meeting before the election on Nov. 8.

The meeting will be held Tuesday evening at the Upland Woman's club house and will be opened with a contributed dish dinner to be served at 6:30 and D. R. Dunster of San Bernardino will be presented as the speaker during the regular session.

Mr. Dunster is prominent in Townsend club activities and is an interesting speaker.

The club meeting will open at 7:30 with W. T. Underwood, president, presiding, and Mr. Dunster will be presented after a short business session.

Plans are being made for a pleasant social time during the dinner hour. Those attending are to bring covered dishes, sandwiches and table service. Free coffee will be served by the committee, which includes Mrs. W. H. Scholten, social and program chairman; Mrs. Minnie Davis and Orin Hook.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Dr. Reinhardt To Tell of European Conditions Sunday

Dr. Aurelia H. Reinhardt, president of Mills college and nationally known as an educator and lecturer, will speak Sunday evening at 7:30 at Bethel Congregational church in Ontario, it is announced by the Rev. Chas. L. Knight, pastor of the church.

Dr. Reinhardt, who recently returned from a six months world tour and study of European conditions, was in Austria during parts of February, March and April, seeing the military occupation of Vienna on March 12, and returning a month later to observe Austria under its new government. She also visited the Hawaiian Islands, China, Japan, Turkey, Palestine and Egypt during her world tour. She will speak on "The Place of Religion in the European Political Conflict."

Dr. Reinhardt is a niece of the late Chas. E. Harwood, pioneer of Upland, and is well known to many in the West End communities.

DEMOCRATS UNITE FOR REPUBLICANS

Headquarters Are Opened and Meeting Will Be Held on Monday Night

As the result of Democrats joining in support of the Republican candidates in the Nov. 8 election, considerable interest is being shown today in the opening of Republican headquarters at 230 Euclid avenue, Ontario, and in a political rally to be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday. Cornelius Bach, prominent Los Angeles Democrat, will be the speaker at the meeting, held in the headquarters.

Announcement of the meeting was made by Laura Linfesty, Highland, a Democrat, who is serving as secretary of the organization sponsoring the headquarters and the meeting.

This move on the part of Democrats is in keeping with the expression of R. O. Price, prominent Uplander, who has publicly appealed to voters to support Governor Merriam for reelection and Philip Bancroft for U. S. senator, and others on the Republican ticket.

Various measures on the ballot will be also discussed at Monday's meeting. All persons interested in knowing more about the candidates and the issues are invited to attend.

The Highland Democrat explained she was devoting all of her time in the interests of getting voters to support the Republican leaders as opposed to Cuthbert Olson and Sheridan Downey.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL DRIVE WILL BE LAUNCHED SOON

Many Volunteer Workers Will Canvas City in Getting Support

As the result of the splendid cooperation given by many Upland residents, final preparations are almost completed for the annual Red Cross membership drive next month. Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson, roll call chairman, set the dates for the drive as Nov. 14, 15 and 16.

Roll call workers have been assigned in each part of Upland, the volunteers planning to contact each family with a personal appeal to join the Upland chapter and to assist in the national organization.

"More than one membership can be obtained in a family and many families in the past have taken out additional memberships," she said. At least 1,000 memberships will be sought in Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Guasti. While Mrs. Anderson is directing the general roll call, she is being assisted by many other people. L. R. Bradley will be in charge of calling on all business houses. Mrs. Lulu Atwood will contact all the school teachers here.

Mrs. Theodore Krysto, Jr., is the Alta Loma chairman for the drive, and in Cucamonga Mrs. W. H. Kincaid and Mrs. Anna B. Jones will direct the roll call. O. H. Price is the Etiwanda chairman, and Mrs. James Martinez will make solicitations in Guasti.

One-half of the money received in each membership remains with the Upland chapter for its welfare and emergency relief work here. While $1 is the stipulated price for the memberships, some people have followed the practice of contributing more than that amount.

Traffic Questions Answered Here

Q—There is a public garage in our neighborhood in which are kept cars owned by some friends of mine. Many times, when they are out of the city I notice that mechanics and others use the cars and certainly don't seem to care much whether they drive recklessly or fast. Can't such a practice be stopped?

A—Such an offense is a very serious one and carries with it a heavy penalty of a fine not exceeding $1,000 or not more than one year in jail or both. Sec. 443 of the Vehicle Code states: Every person having the storage, care, safe keeping, custody or possession of any vehicle of a type subject to registration who without consent of the owner, takes, hires, runs, drives or uses such vehicle or removes therefrom any part thereof is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Q—If a person requests and is given a free ride in my car and I have an accident, in which they are injured, am I responsible for any damages or claims they make as a result?

A—If they are your "guest" and the accident is not caused by your recklessness, wilful misconduct or intoxication, the law declares you to be not liable.

Officials Prepare $50,000,000 Flood Aid Request

Officials, flood control engineers and interested citizens recently met in San Bernardino to discuss the proposed flood control and water conservation projects for San Bernardino and Riverside counties. A congressional appropriation of $51,000,000 will be sought. In the above picture are, left to right, sitting: Supervisors Will L. Fowler, C. E. Grier, chairman; Representative Harry Sheppard; Supervisors Frank H. Mogle and Arthur Doran. Left to right, standing: John H. Klusman, L. V. Seigler, R. O. Price, E. E. Kiggens, members of the flood control advisory committee, and background, Harold P. Thoreson and Ed Ham.

FLOOD SURVEYS TO BE FINISHED SOON

Proposed Work in Two Counties Will Be Outlined By Nov. 15

Further effort will be made during the next session of Congress to obtain an appropriation of $51,000,000 for flood control and water conservation purposes in San Bernardino and Riverside counties. The San Bernardino county board of supervisors, the flood control advisory committee, Harry R. Sheppard and others met recently to discuss the need and ways and means of getting the money.

Surveys on streams in San Bernardino and Riverside counties will be completed by November 15, and will be sent to Washington, where they will be studied by army engineers and then submitted to the Rivers and Harbors Committees, after which the plans will be presented to Congress for authorization and allocation of funds.

Flood control surveys on streams, including the Mojave valley, Santa Ana, Cucamonga, Waterman canyon, Lytle creek and the San Antonio canyon, are nearly completed.

The cooperation of the flood control committee and the board of supervisors will be sought to expedite the request for a $51,000,000 authorization when Congress convenes in January.

Garden Notes

By Bill Gilliland

CURB YOUR CLIPPING

With the approach of cold weather, many deciduous shrubs and trees are beginning to drop their leaves. This usually inspires one to take pruning shears and shape up some of the plants which appear a little irregular. We must be careful, however, not to give in to this urge except on plants which have just finished flowering, such as the crepe myrtle. Those plants like bridal wreath and flowering peach, which flower in the spring, will produce their flowers on the part of the branches which grew this summer. Therefore, any attempt to shorten or thin these plants reduces the display of color next spring. Wait until they bloom and then you can prune them freely and use the flowers for indoor decoration. Or, if you prefer the color in the garden, wait until they have just finished blooming and then trim back the branches which have flowered.

SPARE THESE SHRUBS

The following is a list of plants which should not be pruned until after flowering next spring: Lilac, syringa, flowering almond, flowering quince, flowering peach, bridal wreath, snowball and weigela.

The best time for giving the rase garden its yearly heavy pruning is in the last of December or the first of January.

COTONEASTERS

Red berry bushes (cotoneasters) of this type require special care in pruning if their natural habit of growth is to be preserved. If your plant has not been cut already, you will notice that part of the arching branches have berries, while part of them are young and have no berries. These young branches are the ones which will have fruit on next season and should not be removed. The older branches can be left until the berries are ripe and may then be thinned out as desired. In most cases they are best cut clear down to the base of the plant.

Snakes have no eyelids. Their eyes are protected by an immovable section of transparent skin. This is shed periodically with the rest of the snake's skin.

A comely colored girl had just been baptized in the river. As she came to the surface she cried, "Bless de Lawd, Ise saved! Las' night I was in de ahms of Satan, but tonight I'm in he ahms of de Lawd!"

"Sistuh," came a baritone voice from the shore, "how is you fixed for tomorrow ebening?"

Mary swallowed her little watch,
Now the watch is gone.

The next council meeting will be held on Dec. 7, the place yet to be selected.

Public Librarian Cannot Be Censor

"The public library, which is supported by public funds, is the property of people holding all shades of opinion on all subjects, including many which are sharply controversial in character. It is fundamental that the library provide, without prejudice, the educational material which is desired by any patron, even though that patron's point of view be entirely antagonistic to the point of view held by the librarian or the library board.

"In no form of library service is it more important to recognize that the library's primary function is to make books accessible to readers, rather than to attempt to censor what they read or direct the trend of their study."—Adult Education.

AGAINST SINGLE TAX

One of his principal appeals was centered on proposition No. 20, which, if adopted, would repeal the sales tax and substitute the single tax. Such a condition would bring chaos in the state and unbearable burdens on the owners of citrus and other real property.

"No" on No. 2, which concerns anti-vivisection.

"Yes" on No. 6, taxation of insurance companies.

"Yes" on No. 7, an enabling act to facilitate relief administration.

"No" on No. 8, concerning apportionment of funds to political subdivisions.

"No" on No. 9, which would exempt veterans' automobiles from taxation where they own no property.

"No" on No. 10, concerning oil leases on state-owned tidelands at Huntington Beach.

FAVORS MORE EQUALIZERS

"Yes" on No. 11 in order to give Southern California additional board of equalization representation.

"No" on No. 12, which would tax exhibits at the San Francisco exposition.

"No" on No. 13, concerning majority on bond issues.

"Yes" on Nos. 14, 15 and 16, which pertain to the judiciary.

"Yes" on No. 17, which would increase time of filing of initiative petitions to 130 days instead of present 90 days prior to the election.

"Yes" on No. 18, to increase state's interest earnings.

APPROVES VETS' PLAN

"Yes" on No. 19, which seeks to release to veterans money for home and farm purchases already rightfully theirs.

"No" on No. 20, sales tax repeal and substitution of single tax.

"Yes" on No. 21.

No recommendation on No. 22.

World Affairs Will Be Theme of Lecture Series at Chaffey

Wiley W. Mather, head of the department of social science at Chaffey junior college, opens the lecture series on "World Affairs" at the People's College on Nov. 3, 8 p. m.

The subject of this first in a series of six free evening programs is "Issues of the November Eighth Election." Mather has proved a popular speaker in his many appearances before civic and religious groups in the West End.

He returned recently from attending the Peace Commission meeting of the Methodist church in Evanston, Ill., where he participated in the business sessions and discussions panels. Mather has done special work at Claremont colleges, the University of California and the University of Southern California.

Besides Chaffey junior college and high school, he has been a member of the faculties of Chico and Monrovia high schools, Pomona college and Claremont colleges. He is a member of Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity. He is also the author of "Government of California," the revised edition of which was published in 1937.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma

HARVEST DINNER HELD

Drawing an attendance of approximately 125 guests, the annual harvest dinner held Wednesday evening at the school house by the Alta Loma Parent-Teacher association, was a successful community event. The dinner was given as a benefit for the P.-T. A. fund and a very satisfactory sum was realized, it is announced by Mrs. Rupert Dishman, president.

A portion of the fund will be spent in the association's welfare work and part will be used to aid in paying for the large range recently purchased for the school cafeteria. The range was used in preparing the dinner for the large number of patrons and its convenience was greatly appreciated by the kitchen committee.

The dinner was served cafeteria style and the tables were attractively decorated, pumpkins and autumn leaves being used to emphasize the harvest motif.

At the conclusion of the dinner quite a number of the guests adjourned from the cafeteria to the auditorium and enjoyed assembly singing and games.

GUILD SPONSORS LUNCHEON

An attractively appointed luncheon and an interesting book review were enjoyed Wednesday by approximately 60 women of the Cucamonga and Alta Loma communities, when they gathered at the Cucamonga Community church to participate in the event sponsored by the Woman's Guild as a benefit for the church fund.

Mrs. Charles Beckley, general chairman, and her committee served the luncheon at daintily decorated quartet tables, 14 being required to accommodate the guests. Each table was sponsored by a hostess, who assisted in extending hospitality to the large number of guests.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Mrs. A. R. Holt, Guild president, presented Mrs. Harry Seares of Ontario, who gave a comprehensive review of the book, "The Yearling." Mrs. Seares is adept at interpreting a story and maintaining its continuity and she presented her subject in a pleasing manner.

CLASS PARTY HELD

More than 40 young people of the Cucamonga Community church were entertained in the church community hall last evening when Miss Opal Morrison, president of the Builders class, was hostess to the members and guests at a Halloween costume party.

A number of games were enjoyed and several prizes were awarded for the best costumes.

The party originally was scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. John Rupp, but was changed to the church when Mrs. Rupp became ill.

ADOBE RESTORATION

Claremont Courier: Restoration of the old Palomares adobe just outside the Claremont city limits at the intersection of Cucamonga and Orange Grove avenues means that this city will have a really significant historical development at its back door.

The townsite of Claremont figured conspicuously in the Spanish era of this region. Mrs. H. H. Garner told the story in detailed and interesting manner last week in the Courier. As a matter of fact, Claremont is probably more closely identified with the historical adobe than is Pomona, where interested citizens have contributed some $6,000 for part of the sponsor's share of a WPA project to rehabilitate the building.

The Pomona Valley Historical society believes that Claremont residents should welcome the opportunity of sharing in the work of restoring the adobe as a museum of this locality. The hope is expressed that $1,000 be contributed by local persons. Contributions will be received at either of the Claremont banks.

While there may be enterprises of greater significance of the social order than this project, the attention of interested citizens is directed to the need for additional funds to the end that Claremont may feel a possessive pride in the development.

Panthers Rest Title Hopes on Outcome of Pomona Game Tonight

If Chaffey wins at Pomona tonight the Panthers will be among the top leaders for the jaysee conference. Two victories are already placing the Panthers in the favored spot and another one will further boost Coach Bert Heiser's squad.

Pomona has lost two games and tied one. In defeating the hosts therefore Chaffey won't be adding any special laurels. But the victory will mean a lot in the records.

Aqueduct Water To Member Cities Only

areas of sufficient size and water requirements to justify as economically feasible the delivery of aqueduct water.

WATER COST GIVEN

The rate at which aqueduct water is to be sold to district areas has not been fixed by the board of directors. The board has given favorable consideration to the possibility of selling water on a base rate as low as $8.00 per acre foot, such rate to be made effective only in the event that there is a positive assurance that it will result in increased water use sufficient to justify its adoption. An additional charge will be made to cover the cost of softening and filtering that portion of the supply which may be so treated, such additional charge to apply only to the water that may be softened and filtered.

The board has given its favorable consideration to a policy under which areas hereafter annexing to the district will be permitted to pay accumulated back taxes over a twenty-year period with no interest charge during the period of amortization.

The Treasury building at Washington, D. C., was built between 1836 and 1839, and is the oldest of the government office buildings in the capital.

Theatre Rally To Be Held Thursday

Songs, dances, musical selections and yells will be featured at the 45-minute student talent stage show for the Chaffey junior college theatre rally Thursday at the Ontario Granada theatre.

Members of the college rally committee are sponsoring the affair with Kenneth Westlund in charge of arrangements. The rally is open to townspeople as well as students. Theme of the theatre rally is "best event of the year," and a stage show that surpasses all previous years.

As a special courtesy to the college Jack Anderson, manager of the Granada theatre, is showing the picture "Touchdown Army", with John Howard and Mary Carlisle, only the one night in Ontario.

The stage show will feature songs by Miss Kathleen Beckley, Miss Linnie Kellenberger and Ralph Williams, a drum act by Bill Murray, dances by Miss Estherann Walker and Miss Sybil Brown, and songs and yells by the cheer leaders.

Ban Partisanship In Local Affairs

From an editorial in the April issue of The San Bernardino Sun

In these days of bitter partisan politics, we sometimes wonder if the people of San Bernardino county fully appreciate the absence of undue conflict in their public affairs because of partisanship, and note in its place a spirit of cooperation whenever the public interest is involved.

We were struck with the public expression of appreciation the other day by Chairman C. E Grier of the board of supervisors for the excellent work that has been done in the Assembly by Godfrey Andreas, assemblyman of the San Bernardino-West End district, in behalf of the reform in public relief.

Mr. Grier holds a non-partisan office and for many years he has taken the position that the fact he holds such an office prevents him from participating in partisan politics. Mr. Andreas is a leader of the Democratic party. He holds a partisan office. Their political positions are therefore not the same.

In many states a partisan leader would not be concerned with a measure that was not the product of his own party councils. In some states the member of one party, or the holder of a non-partisan office would not publicly praise the leader of an opposition party.

Mr. Andreas has done a fine piece of conservative work at Sacramento in behalf of reform in public relief. Mr. Grier goes so far as to declare "the movement would have been sunk without the work in its behalf that was done by Assemblyman Andreas."

We are glad that this is the kind of a county in which partisan politics does not set on the throne and where we can have appreciaton of the work of public officials, regardless of the political party to which they may belong.
